Gillian Flynn; Gone girl

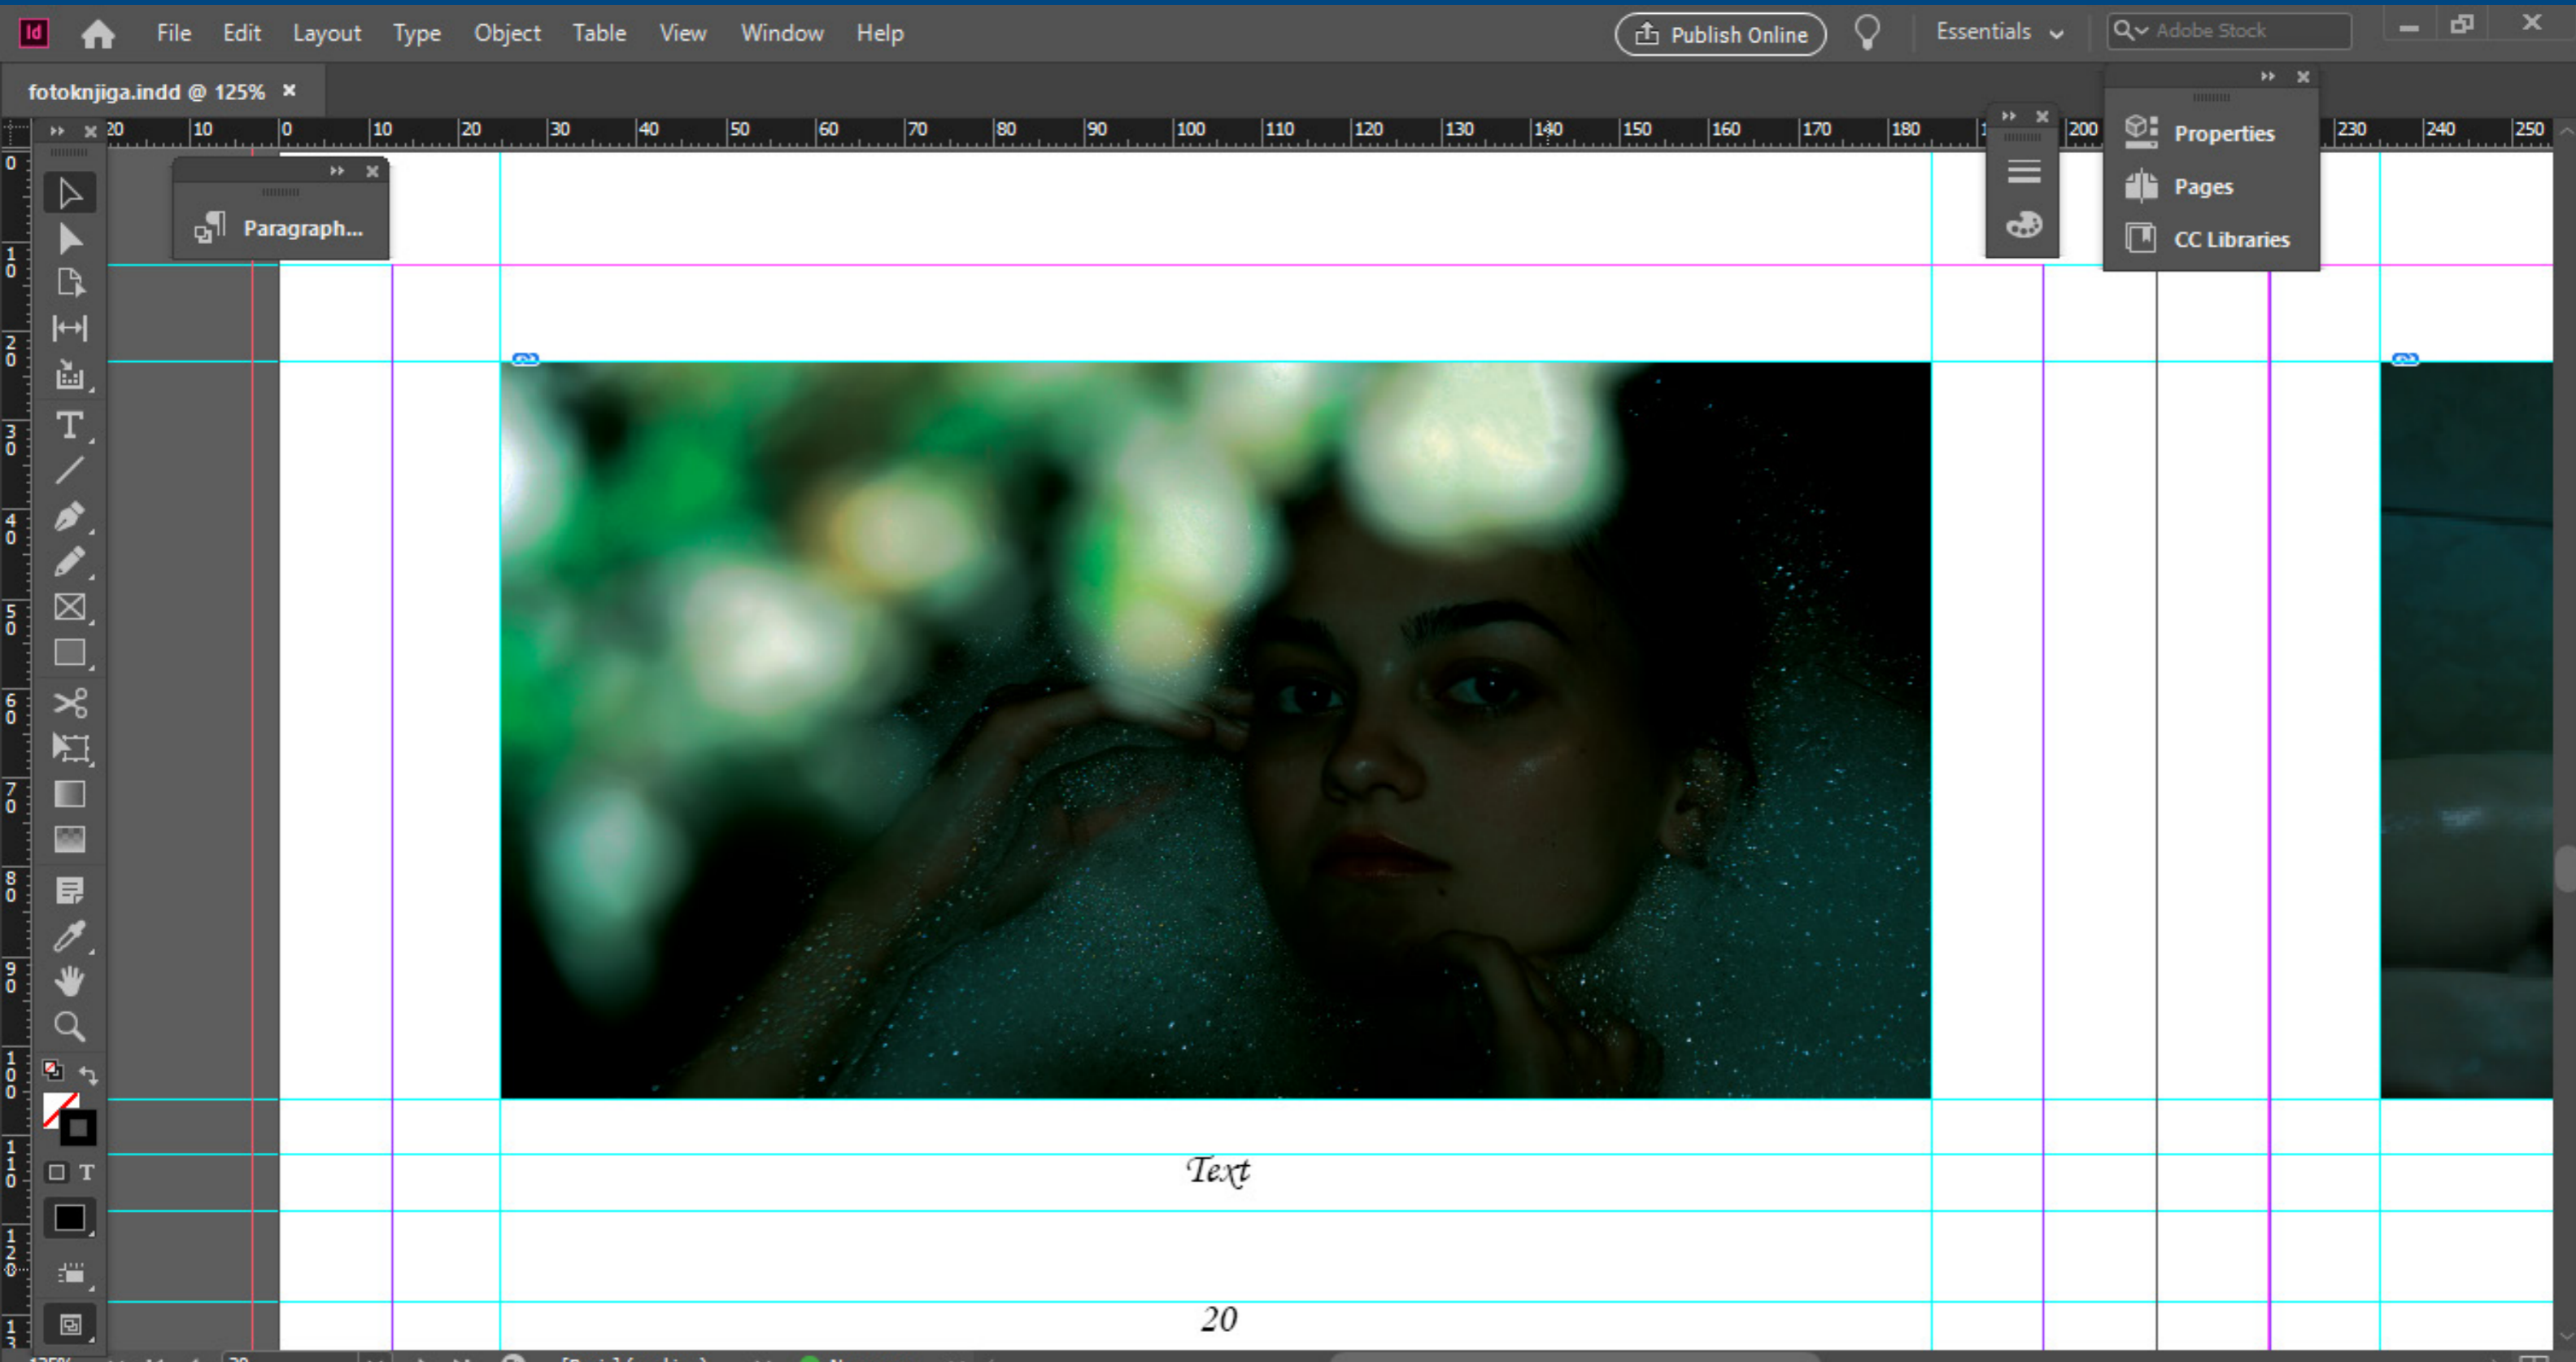

It's a very difficult era in which to be a person, just a real, actual person, instead of a collection of personality traits selected from an endless automat of characters.

And if all of us are play-acting, there can be no such thing as a soul mate, because we do not have genuine souls.

It had gotten to a point where it seems like nothing matters, because I'm not real a real person and neither is anyone else.

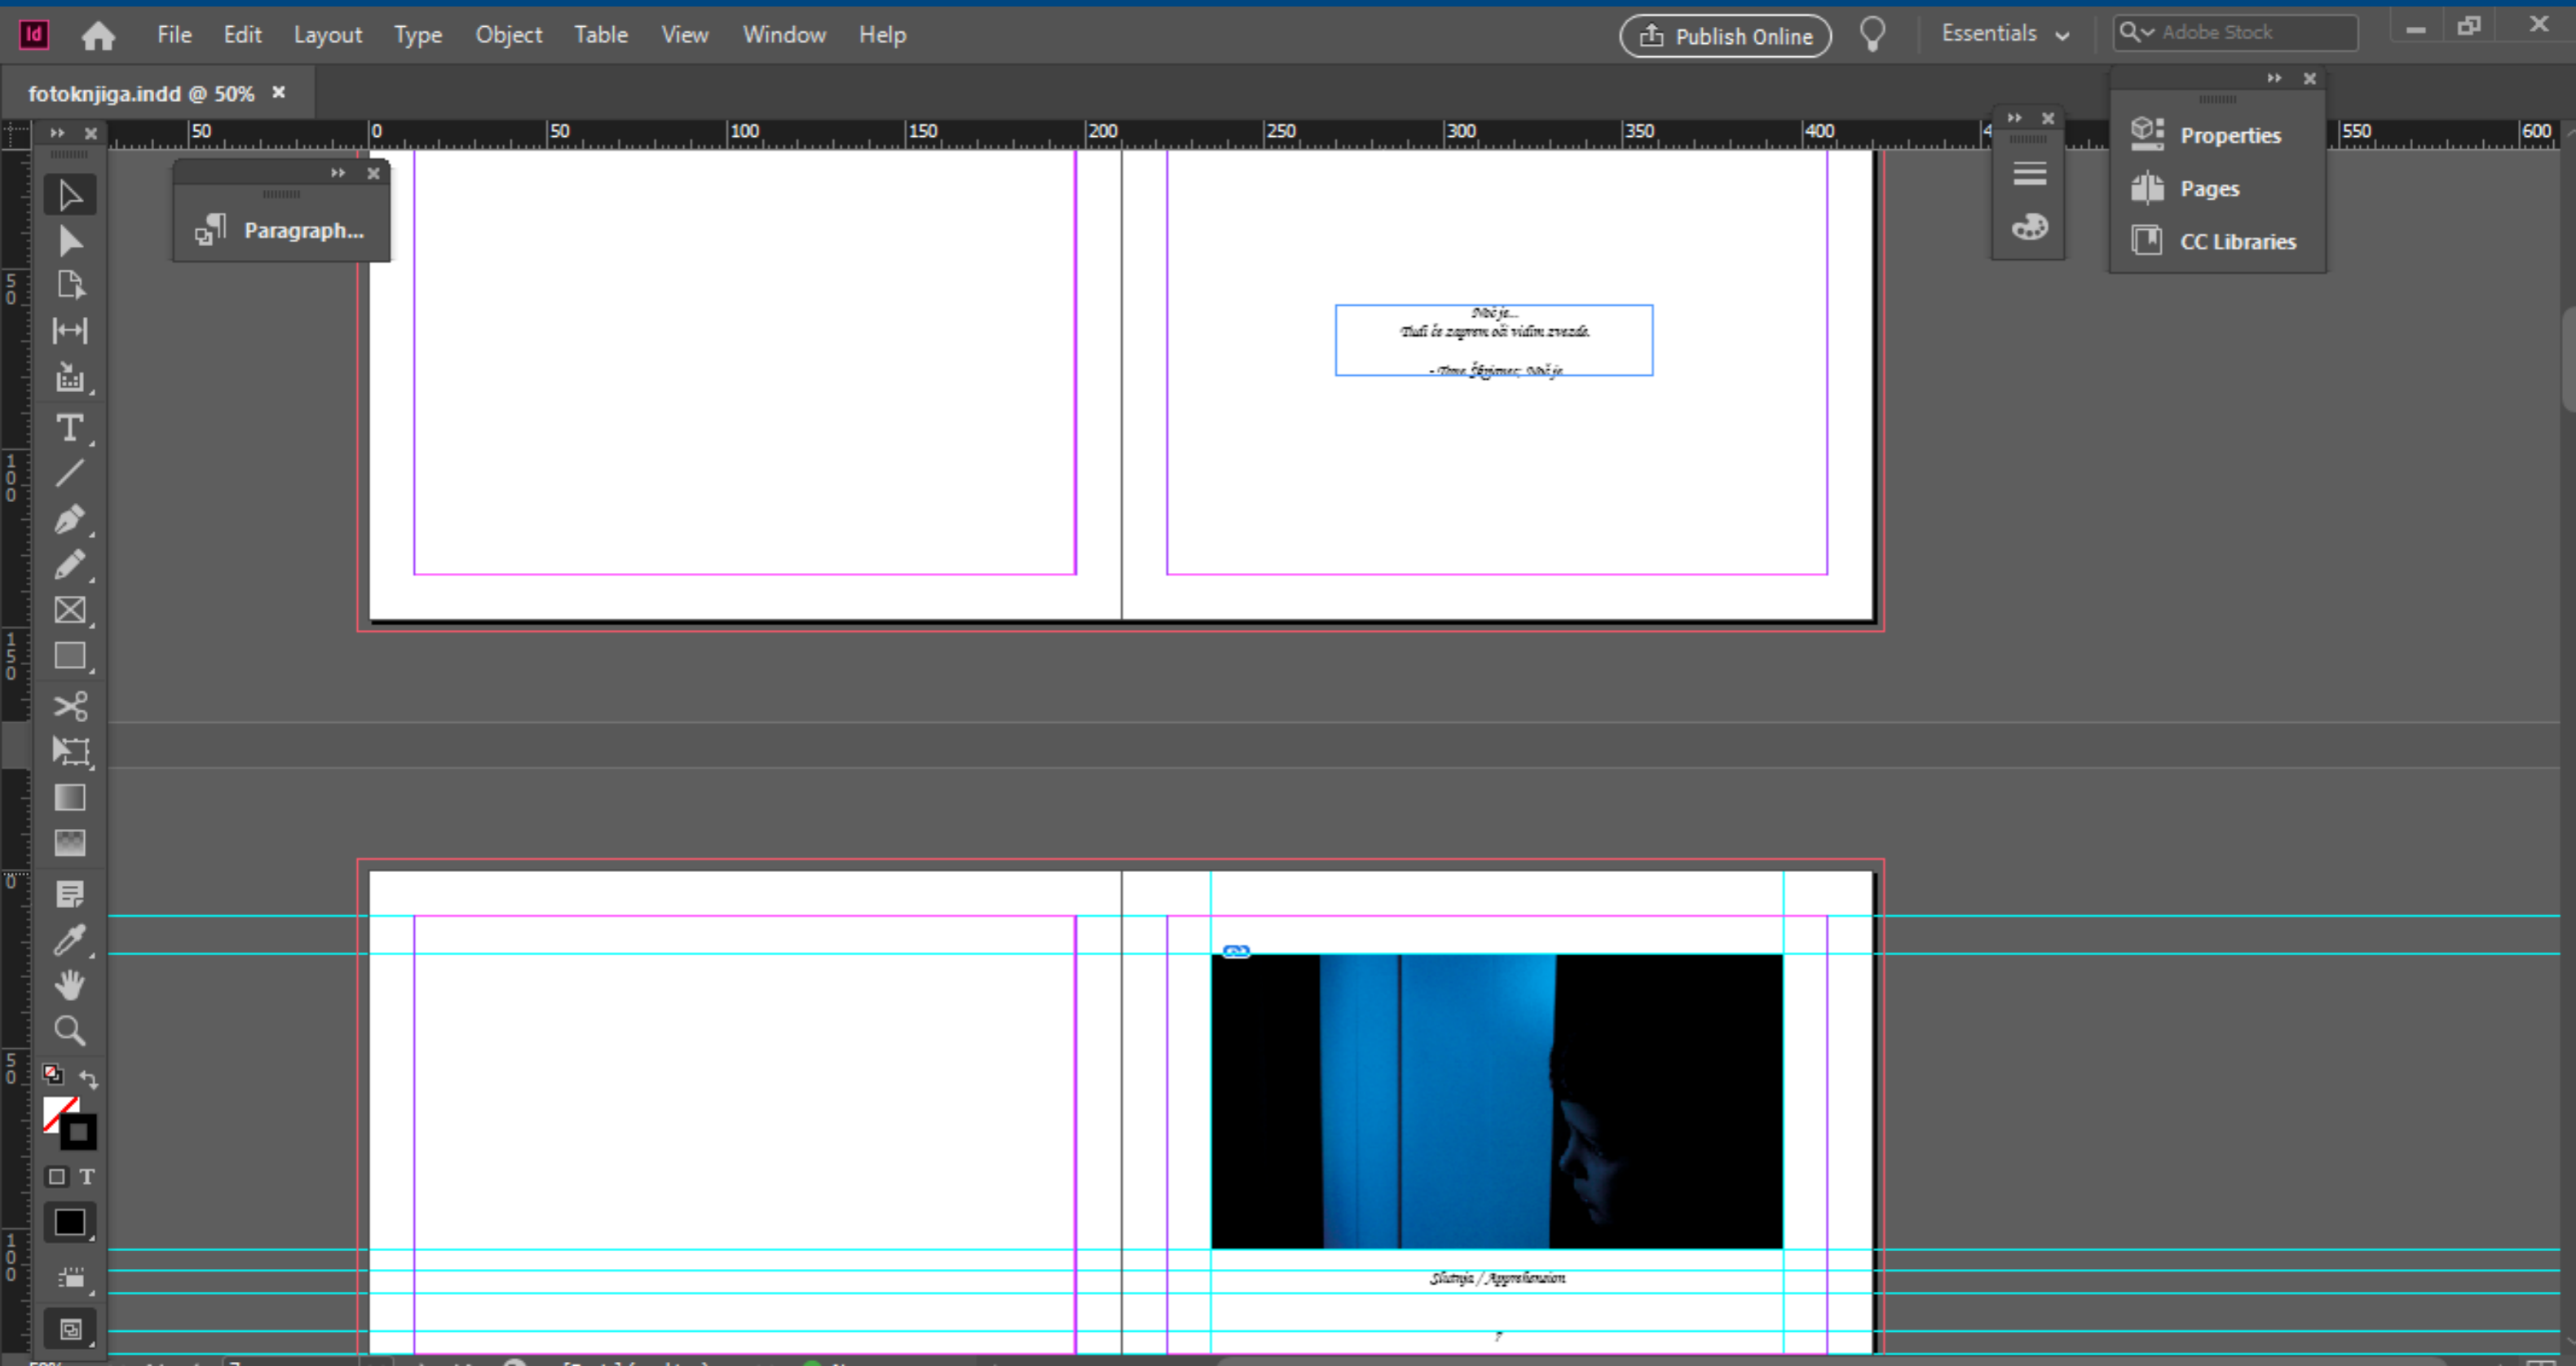

I would have done anything to feel real again.
